In Search of Parzival: Past and Present

with Sarnia Guiton and Rima Meadow

April 10—May 2, 2020

This is a traveling study of the story of Parzival and how it relates to us in our time. What can we learn from it? How can we come closer to an understanding of the Grail? What is the Grail? We invite you to bring your inner sense and knowledge to an exploration of these questions as we travel.

The Grail sites call forth medieval Christian legends of Joseph of Arimathea, Titirel, and Frimutel. These legends set the stage for Parzival's quest in the ninth century, to overcome personal folly and reach compassion and love. Rudolf Steiner relates that Parzival's quest is archetypal for our own; that his stumbling and failings have reason, as do our own; that they are an aspect of striving in a modern initiation path. This is relevant for every one of us in these present times.

The tour encompasses sites where the pre-Christian Hibernian & Druidic streams in Great Britain and Little Britain (Brittany) connect with the Grail stream, in locations identified by Rudolf Steiner and others. We will also explore historical sites connected to Parzival in Slovenia identified by Viktor Stracke, Sergei Prokofieff and Miha Pogacnik. Other sites we visit will bring to us the early medieval mood of Parzival's time.

This is an outer journey as we travel in Wales, England, France, Spain, Switzerland and Slovenia and an inner journey as we individually explore what Parizval's story means to each of us. It will be accompanied and enhanced by storytelling and insights originating from Rudolf Steiner.

Please join us as we explore these mysteries together on this tour.

A rare opportunity...while in England.

We have the opportunity to visit Green Knowe, one of the most magical places in England and the oldest continuously occupied residence. Enchanting children's stories have been set in this house. This would be a day trip from London on April 10 – see over for further information.

Glorious Green Knowe!

April 10 – optional day excursion from London

Most of us know the stories of Narnia.

The stories of Green Knowe by Carnegie winner, Lucy Boston, are less well known, despite their arising out of her clairvoyance. These enchanting, haunting stories have become modern classics, beautifully evoking all the magic and wonder of childhood. Rima's friend, Diana Boston, the daughter-in-law of the author, is a treasure herself, still lives in the house and can tell many amazing stories. We would visit her and hear about the house from the woman who keeps it alive.
